daily papers during the past few days to the effect that many of the ladies new engaged in the international tournament at Madison Square Garden were through their extreme poverty deprived of even the common necessities of life. I would wish to state to the public, through your valuable paper, that all such reports are absolutely false, and furthermore, that I stand ready to meet at my expense, notwithstanding the fact that the tournament will not be a paying one to me, all bills for food, ciothing or medical attendance that any contestant may be in need of during the race. I would also wish to state in answer to a rumor that the contestants were simply hired by the week, that such is not the case, and that the prize mency offered by mo ($2.500) has been paid over by nie to A. Gillbert, Esq., cashier of the Market National Bank, this city, to be held by him, payable, on the order of the referee to the winners of this race, and that the belt advertised is now on exhibition at the Garden, and can be seen by all. many of the ladies now engaged in the international
